Investment’ and high Social Return on Investment (SROI) for children and young people.

Our aims:

- Empower children and young people to become agents of their futures and global citizens
- Enable children and young people to make great music and art together
- Increase the workforce of engaging and effective teaching artists
- Strengthen the community of ‘music change makers’ to spread best practices

Our objectives:

- To build a Youth Company that provides high quality musical progression and life skills development for the most committed young musicians on Sistema programmes
- To deliver high quality teacher training, investing in future leaders of ‘music for change’ work
- To run innovation labs and action research for music professionals
- To provide instruments for young musicians in England where otherwise unaffordable
